Who we are

Who is providing this notice?

Firstrade Securities Inc., and its affiliates. See list of affiliates below.

What we do

How does Firstrade protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

Please visit <https://www.firstrade.com/legal/privacy> for additional information on how we maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to guard your personal information.

How does Firstrade collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you:

- open an account or make deposit / withdrawals from your account
- instruct us to buy securities or sell your securities
- tell us about your trading activity or investment objective

In some cases, we will collect information from consumer reporting agencies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit the following only:

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for non-affiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. Please check with the applicable authority in order to determine limitation rights.

What happens when I limit sharing on an account I hold jointly with someone else?

Your choices will apply to everyone on the account.
